

Stones in Vibration

Legal Notice

The website www.stonesinvibration.lu (hereinafter referred to as “the Website”) is the exclusive property of the Ministry of the Economy, General Directorate for Tourism.

These general terms of use are governed by Luxembourg law and are intended to regulate the use of the Website.

By accessing the Website, you agree to these general terms of use. If you do not agree with them, you are requested not to continue your visit or use of the Website.

1. User Responsibility

The user accesses and uses the Website and its services at their own risk and under their full responsibility. Stones in Vibration cannot in any way guarantee that the Website and its services will be uninterrupted. The obligation to provide the Website and its services is limited to a best-efforts obligation.

As the user accesses the Website via Internet communication networks, it is their responsibility to be aware of and accept the associated risks. The user must take appropriate measures to protect against cyber threats by using a secure IT configuration, including regularly updated antivirus software. Stones in Vibration shall not be held liable for any damage suffered directly or indirectly in connection with browsing the Website.

All information and data published on the Website are provided for informational purposes only. They shall not be considered as specific advice or decision-making assistance and do not give rise to any guarantee from Stones in Vibration.

The photographs, illustrations, and texts used to present the products are non-contractual. Consequently, Stones in Vibration shall not be held liable in the event of errors in such photographs or texts.

2. Website Accessibility

The Website is in principle accessible 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, except in cases of scheduled or unscheduled interruptions for maintenance or in cases of force majeure.

As only a best-efforts obligation applies, Stones in Vibration shall not be held liable for any damage, regardless of its nature, resulting from the unavailability of the Website or one or more services, or from the presence of viruses on the Website.

3. Links

The Website may contain information provided by external companies or hyperlinks to other websites that have not been developed by Stones in Vibration.

The existence of such links does not constitute any endorsement of these websites or their content by Stones in Vibration. Accordingly, Stones in Vibration shall not be held liable for the information, opinions, or recommendations expressed by third parties.

Stones in Vibration has no means of controlling these websites (and/or the products and services they offer) and does not guarantee their availability.

Some links are generated automatically and cannot all be verified by Stones in Vibration.

4. Intellectual Property

All elements of the Website (including its layout) as well as its services are protected by intellectual property laws, notably the amended law of 18 April 2001 on copyright, related rights, and databases, as well as the Benelux Convention on Intellectual Property.

Unless otherwise stated, copyright on the Website's content belongs to the owner of the website "Stones in Vibration".

All intellectual property rights — including, but not limited to, copyrights, design rights, and trademark rights — on all texts, interfaces, illustrations, sounds, software, domain names, logos, designs, layouts, and other materials on this Website are the property of Stones in Vibration or are used with the permission of the relevant owner.

Reproduction of information, texts, images, photos, videos, visual elements, or documents of any kind contained on the Website is prohibited without prior written authorization. Any authorized use must be carried out without alteration, modification, or distortion.

It is also expressly prohibited for users to reproduce and/or use trademarks, logos, or designs present on the Website. In particular, any action consisting of modifying, copying, translating, reproducing, selling, publishing, exploiting, or distributing, in digital or any other form, all or part of the Website's content is prohibited.

The owner of the Website "Stones in Vibration" grants users a private, non-collective, and non-exclusive right to use its content. This right is limited to printing one or more articles and/or saving them on a computer (or other digital device such as mobile or tablet) for strictly personal use.

Any networking, redistribution, professional or commercial use, or commercialization of the content to third parties, in any form whatsoever, is strictly prohibited unless prior written authorization has been obtained.

The rights granted constitute a permission to use and in no case a transfer of ownership. Stones in Vibration reserves the right to take legal action against any infringement of its intellectual property rights.

5. Modification of the Terms of Use

These general terms of use may be modified or supplemented at any time, in particular due to changes made to the Website, developments in legislation, or for any other reason deemed necessary.

It is the user's responsibility to stay informed of the applicable terms, only the latest version available online being considered valid.

6. Processing of Personal Data

The personal data collected are processed exclusively by the Organizer for the purpose of organizing the Stones in Vibration festival.

The data are handled in strict confidence and in compliance with Regulation (EU) 2016/679 of 27 April 2016 (GDPR).

They will not be communicated to third parties, except upon specific instruction from the applicant and subject to applicable legal or regulatory requirements.

Personal data will be stored in a form that permits identification of data subjects for no longer than is necessary for the purposes for which they are processed.

In accordance with the GDPR, the applicant has the right to information, access, rectification, erasure, and data portability, as well as the right to restriction of processing and/or the right to object, by sending a request to:
